Direct PLUS loans are federal loans that parents of dependent undergraduate students can use to help pay for college expenses that are not covered by other financial aid.

To borrow a Direct PLUS loan for a dependent undergraduate student, the parent must be the student's biological or adoptive parent, or in some cases, a stepparent. A legal guardian is not considered a parent for federal student aid purposes.

Parent PLUS loan borrowers and their dependent child must be U.S. citizens or eligible noncitizens, must not be in default on any federal education loans, or owe an overpayment on a federal education grant.

Our records indicate that you have already applied for a direct PLUS loan. However, the parent listed on the Direct PLUS application is not listed on your FAFSA application. Before we can proceed with your application, please verify the parental information below and submit form to our office.
